As at 31st March, 2019, SDPL is in the process of implementing certain real estate projects, the cost incurred in relation to which till 31st March, 2019 has been included in the head "Property Development in Progress" under Current Assets in its unaudited accounts as at 31st March, 2019. The Company's capital as at 31st March, 2019 was Rs.52,19,06,910/- consisting of 5,21,90,961 Class "A" equity shares of the face value of Rs.10/- each fully paid up, Rs 56,000/- consisting of 5,600 Class "B" equity shares of the face value of Rs.10/- each fully paid up, Rs 1,20,00,000/- consisting of 12,00,000 Class "C" equity shares of the face value of Rs.10/- fully paid up, Rs 1,640/- 10% redeemable non-cumulative preference shares of Rs.10/- each fully paid-up. 2.2 Sesen Realty Private Limited ("SRPL" or the "Resulting Company")

Sesen Realty Private Limited was incorporated on 22nd March 2018. The main object of the company is to engage in business of Real Estate Development consisting of land, buildings and other immovable properties.

3. Purpose of Valuation

As stated earlier, it is proposed by the management of the Demerged Company to transfer/demerge the Demerged Undertaking of the Demerged Company to the Resulting Company with effect from 1st April, 2019. In terms of the proposed Scheme of Arrangement, Redeemable Preference shares of the Resulting Company i.e. SRPL would be issued and allotted to the different Classes of Equity Shareholders of SDPL in consideration of the transfer and vesting of the assets / business of the said Demerged Undertaking with the Resulting Company.

4. Rationale for Demerger

We are given to understand that the proposed Scheme of Arrangement has been decided in view of the following reasons:

Satellite Developers Private Limited (SDPL or Demerged Company) has been carrying on business of real estate development since many years.

In 1971 or thereabouts certain plots of land with other assets of sick textile mills were nationalized and were vested with a Central Government Undertaking viz. NTC Limited, which in course of time, was demerged into several entities. Thus NTC (SM) Limited came to be vested with plots of sick textile mills (which were nationalized) in the City of Mumbai and other parts of Maharashtra.

In course of time certain special regulations were promulgated by MCGM for development of plots of land of textile mills.

NTC (SM) obtained certain special approvals from Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai (MCGM), and started selling plots of textile mills held by it.

In 2007 or thereabouts, SDPL (Demerged Company) acquired a plot of land at Nepean Sea Road, bearing C.S. No. 597 at Malabar & Cumballa Hill Division, Mumbai District, ('the said Plot') from NTC (SM) Limited. Since development of the said Plot was to be carried out under the special regulations promulgated for development of textile mills; SDPL has considered business of development of mill land as a distinct undertaking ('the said Undertaking').

SDPL has resolved to demerge / spin off business of mill land development i.e. the said Undertaking as a distinct entity (Resulting Company) on and with effect from 1st April, 2019.

We are given to understand that the proposed Scheme of Arrangement has been decided in view of the following reasons:

- (i) The business of real-estate development on mill land can be undertaken more conveniently with greater focus and attention through a separate company. Independent setup will ensure required depth and focus and adoption of strategies necessary for the growth of the respective Company. The structure provides independence to the management in decisions regarding the use of their respective cash flows for dividends, capital expenditure or other reinvestment in their respective businesses
- (ii) The transfer of Demerged Undertaking to the Resulting Company would assist in induction of joint venture partner/strategic investor/financial investor in the Resulting Company and pursue inorganic and organic growth opportunities in such businesses;
- (iii) The restructuring under this Scheme would enable focused business approach for maximization of benefits to all stakeholders and capitalize on the opportunity for the growth.
- (iv) The demerger will also provide scope for independent collaboration and expansion without committing the existing organization in its entirety.

5. Valuation Methodology

We have for the purpose of this valuation arrived at fair value of the Demerged Undertaking of SDPL for the purposes of issue of redeemable preference shares of face value of Rs.10/- each by SRPL to the equity shareholders of SDPL, the entitlement/exchange ratio of which preference shares by different classes of equity shares held by equity shareholders of SDPL has been arrived at based on the said equity shareholders respective beneficial/economic ownership entitlement in SDPL.

Please find below our approach and methodology for valuation of the Demerged Undertaking of the Demerged Company for the purposes of issue of redeemable preference shares of face value of Rs.10/- each by SRPL to the equity shareholders of SDPL and the entitlement/exchange ratio of the said preference shares by holders of different classes of equity shares in SDPL based on the said equity shareholders respective beneficial/economic ownership entitlement in SDPL. We have followed the methodology for the purpose of share valuation and determination of exchange ratio as is considered appropriate by us to the best of our knowledge and belief.

5.1 Approach to valuation of Business Undertaking.

There are several methods available for arriving at a fair value of the Demerged Undertaking of SDPL , such as

- (i) Net Asset Value method (NAV)
- (ii) Profit earning capacity method (PECV)
- (iii) Average of NAV & PECV
- (iv) Market price method.

While several methods can be adopted for the purpose of valuation, in the ultimate analysis valuation will have to be done taking into account all the relevant factors. There are several factors e.g. asset base of the company, future prospects of the company as well as the Industry, consistency of earnings, etc. which are not evident from the financial details in the balance sheet but which nevertheless strongly influence the worth of share.

Manish

5.2 Methods of share valuation.

(i) The net asset value (NAV) method:

In the net asset value method, net asset value is computed based on the latest audited/un-audited (Provisional) balance sheet. The starting point in this method of valuation is the total assets. The values of intangible assets are excluded. Any reserves that have not been created out of genuine profits are not taken into account. The loan funds are deducted. Contingent liabilities, to the extent that they impair the net worth of the company, are also deducted. The resultant figure represents the net worth of the company on the given date. This method of valuation though inconsistent with the going concern concept, is definitely indicative of the minimum net worth of the business.

The NAV can be calculated in two different ways:

(a) At the book value :

While valuing the shares under this method, the book value of various assets and liabilities as on the valuation date are considered for working of the NAV. Generally, this methodology is adopted when the concerned entity is a going concern and other methods for valuation are also dealt with and considered in determining the fair value of the business/entity..

(b) At Intrinsic Value :

At times when the transaction is in the nature of transfer of business or acquisition of significant equity stake in a company from a strategic long-term perspective, the intrinsic value of the assets is considered for arriving at the NAV. The intrinsic values of the assets are worked out by considering the underlying inherent value of the assets of the concerned business/entity. Likewise exact liabilities are ascertained for determining the intrinsic value of the company/shares.

Some of the common adjustments required to be taken into account while determining the NAV of the shares are contingent liability, underlying appreciation/depreciation in the value of investments, surplus assets, etc. Certain intangible assets may have been acquired at a price which needs to be considered while arriving at the NAV. Any impairment or impact in the value of assets is also considered while determining the NAV.

Manish

(ii) The profit earning capacity value (PECV) method

This method of valuation presumes the continuity of business, and uses the past and projected earnings to arrive at an estimate of future maintainable profits. For the purpose of the Profit Earning Capacity Value (PECV) of the business/entity, the commonly accepted approach is to capitalize average earnings, past and projected at an appropriate rate of capitalization, to arrive at a fair value business/entity. In the calculation of PECV, provision for taxation at the current statutory rate is normally considered because "the crux of estimating the PECV lies in the assessment of the future maintainable profits of the business". It needs to be emphasized that the valuation is for the future and that it is the future maintainable stream of earnings that is of greater significance in the process of valuation.

(iii) Valuation based on average of NAV and PECV per share

The value of the equity share of a company may be determined on the basis of the average of the values determined by the NAV and PECV method.

(iv) Market Price Method :

Under this method the business is valued based on the price quoted at recognized stock exchange/s.

The valuation under this method is not feasible because the shares are not listed on any recognized stock exchange in India or abroad.

5.3 Valuation Process and Approach :

- It is important to stress that the process of valuation cannot possibly be reduced to uniform and inflexible exercise. In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to be tampered by the exercise of judicious discretion and judgement taking into account all the relevant factors. After all, the object of valuation process is to make a reasonable judgement of the fair value of the equity shares of the company.
- The essence of the PECV method of valuation lies in assessment of future maintainable earnings of the business. A reasonable estimate of average maintainable profits is required to be made by taking past earnings and the future plans of the company as a base. As stated earlier the major business activity is that of real estate/property development. The said real estate business activities essentially involve undertaking the development and construction of commercial/residential projects after a careful consideration of several factors namely the industry/business prospects, economic and commercial feasibility of the projects, the gestation period, the relevant financial parameters etc. Indeed, the very nature of the real estate industry characterized by high volatility and uncertainty renders the determination of reliable estimate of the future maintainable profits on the basis of past performance or in any other manner highly impossible, which is the crux of this method of share valuation.

As detailed in the preceding paragraphs SDPL have undertaken and is in the process of implementing certain real estate projects the status in relation to which as at 31st March, 2019 has been detailed in the earlier paragraphs. We have been given to understand that considering the nature of the real estate industry, a reliable plan for future real estate projects cannot possibly be made as a base for ascertaining the future performance of the company on a year to year basis. Besides, various factors such as the varied and uncertain gestation period for completion of real estate projects, high volatility in real estate industry, accounting practice adopted by the companies, etc., renders determination of a reasonable estimate of future maintainable profits highly impracticable. Accordingly, in our view, the PECV method can be of no avail and cannot be applied in determining the fair value of the Demerged Undertaking.

- The other commonly used method of valuation of share is NET ASSET VALUE (NAV). We believe that NAV method of valuation would be appropriate in this case based on a careful consideration of the following factors:
 - a) Since the Scheme contemplates transfer/Demerger of the Demerged Undertaking being the business of real estate development on mill land as more particularly detailed in this report as from the Appointed Date 1st April, 2019, the valuation of the said Demerged Undertaking based on the NAV method of valuation would be appropriate. Further, considering the intrinsic value of the Demerged Undertaking of SDPL is derived from the underlying Value of real estate stocks /Property Development in Progress and other assets appertaining to the said Demerged Undertaking of SDPL, NAV method would be the most appropriate valuation method.

- b) In view of the unsuitability of the PECV method, the NAV method at book value would be an appropriate indicator of the value of the company

5.4 Basis of Valuation :

The detailed mode of computation of valuation based on the NAV method is explained herein below .The effective date of Scheme of Demerger has been proposed as 1st April, 2019. For the purpose of determining the NAV of the Demerged Undertaking of SDPL , we have considered the audited balance sheet as at 31st March, 2019 of SDPL and the relevant details of assets and liabilities appertaining to and/or forming part of the Demerged Undertaking of SDPL made available to us as at 31st March, 2019.

i) NAV of the Project / Undertaking to be Demerged from SDPL.

- Fixed Assets appertaining to the Demerged Undertaking have been valued at cost.
- The property development work in progress of real estate project Sese on the mill land situate at Mumbai relating to the Demerged Undertaking have been valued adopting the following valuation basis:

The net realizable value of the above Real Estate project (i.e. balance gross realizable value (i.e. gross realizable value less amount recognized as sales till 31st March, 2019) less the residual construction cost incurred/to be incurred in relation to the relevant project after 1st April, 2019 has been considered as provided to us by SDPL and relied upon by us for the purpose of this valuation. The balance gross realizable value represents the balance gross amount of the sale proceeds (net of sales already recognized in the accounts prior to 31st March, 2019, if any) projected to be realized upon sale, following completion of the said project based on the estimated market rates. The net realizable value thus in effect represents the realizable value (over the project implementation period) of the work in progress as at 31st March, 2019. This amount representing the net realizable value to the extent received as advance monies till 31st March, 2019 has been considered accordingly and to the extent projected to be receivable over the project implementation period after 1st April, 2019 has been discounted @ 12% to arrive at its net present value as at 31st March, 2019. The NPV's as at 31st March, 2019 of the said Net Realizable Value in relation to the above Real Estate project in progress thus represents the intrinsic value of the work in progress considered for the purpose of NAV based valuation method.

- All other assets consisting of Debtors, Cash and Bank Balances, Loans and Advances and Advance for Projects appertaining to the Demerged Undertaking have been considered at book values as per the details made available to us based on audited accounts as at 31st March, 2019.
- Secured loans, Unsecured loans, convertible debentures , Current and other liabilities/provisions pertaining to the Demerged Undertaking have been considered at book values as per the details made available to us based on audited accounts as at 31st March, 2019.
- The Preference share capital has been considered at the amount stated in the unaudited accounts as at 31st March, 2019.

6. Exchange ratio recommendation

Based on the above, in our opinion the NAV of the Project / Undertaking to be Demerged from SDPL as per the methodology detailed in para 5.4 above works out to Rs.85.93 lacs as per Annexure A attached herewith. As mentioned earlier, since the management of the companies are proposing to issue Redeemable Preference shares of Face Value of Rs 10/-each fully paid up by the Resulting Company to the Equity shareholders of the Demerged Company, a total of 8,59,341 redeemable preference shares of the face value of Rs.10/- each fully paid up is recommended to be issued by SRPL to the equity shareholders of SDPL.

Since, the equity capital of SDPL consists of different classes of equity shares having differential rights as detailed in the earlier paragraphs, the entitlement/exchange ratio of the said preference shares by holders of different classes of equity shares in SDPL based on the said equity shareholders respective beneficial/economic ownership entitlement in SDPL is recommended here under:
